

The American Dream Starts @your library

The St. Petersburg Public Library System has been chosen as one of 44 public libraries in 21 states to receive a one-time grant of $15,000 to add or expand literacy services for adult English language learners and their families. With generous funding from the Dollar General Literacy Foundation, the American Library Association (ALA) and its Office for Literacy and Outreach Services (OLOS), the grant will be used to create "St. Pete Speaks ESL @ your library", a one-on-one tutoring program that will match trained volunteers with new English speakers. In addition to funding the development of the tutoring program, the grant will allow the library system to expand its print and digital English as a Second Language (ESL) resources, increase computer access and raise the visibility of library services offered to immigrant populations throughout the City of St. Petersburg and Pinellas County.

As Mika Nelson, Director of the St. Petersburg Public Library System notes, "this grant award provides an exciting opportunity for the library system to expand much needed literacy services that not only enhance community members' library experiences, but improve their quality of life and their ability to be informed and contributing members of society."

The St. Petersburg Public Library System is pleased to have been selected for this wonderful opportunity to enhance its literacy services, and with the support of its partners, the Friends of the Main Library, the Pinellas Public Library Cooperative and the Largo Public Library, is looking forward to the launch of its ESL program.

Volunteer tutors are now being sought for tutor training beginning in April. For more information about St. Pete Speaks ESL @ your library, visit the library's webpage at www.splibraries.org/ESL, email ESL.library@stpete.org or phone (727) 893-7929.

Celebration of Reading Highlights

The Pinellas Public Library Cooperative (PPLC) attended the annual Celebration of Reading event hosted by the Barbara Bush Foundation for Family Literacy. Mary Brown, Executive Director with staff member Rosa Rodriguez, PPLC Deaf Literacy

Center and board members Kathy Ralph and Cecilia Burke represented the organization at the special program. The event was a great success once again this year. The celebrity event was hosted by former Governor Jeb Bush. He was joined by family members and supporters including former First Lady Barbara Bush, Doro Bush Koch and bestselling author and cable news host Bill O'Reilly, along with authors Harlan Coben, Arthur Agatston, and Andrea Beatty. Each year, Celebration of Reading raises funds to help people read and build better futures for their families. The program is managed by the Barbara Bush Foundation for Family Literacy, which provides funds for the Deaf Florida Family Literacy Academy.

Florida's Celebration of Reading is a special day that brings together best-selling authors, business partners, literacy volunteers and friends to support the Florida Family Literacy Initiative and to celebrate the profound impact that its literacy programs have on Florida's families.

COMMUNITIES MATTER @your library®

Community-building connections are happening all the time at your library. From new moms connecting at storytime to small business owners convening to make opportunities happen, to teens meeting up after school, the library helps foster all types of communities. April 14-20 is National Library Week. Visit your library. Communities matter @ your library.
