A Monthly Publication of the Pinellas Public Library Cooperative

Celebrate Braille!

January is National Braille Literacy Month, celebrating the birthday month of Louis Braille, the creator of the braille code. Braille is a tactile reading system that uses raised dots arranged in a six-dot cell (like a muffin tin!). Letters and contracted words are represented by different combinations of dots within these six cells. Braille readers use these raised dots to read books, reading materials, and text from all over the world.

Braille is an important part of literacy for those who are blind, have low vision or partial vision. Learning braille provides readers greater opportunities for careers, independence, school success, and improved quality of life.

As technology advances with smart screens on tablets and phones, braille is adapting also. Refreshable braille displays allow text documents, like emails and web pages, to be displayed in braille. This adaptive technology is important to make on-line resources accessible to those who read braille.

To learn more about braille, adaptive technology, and other resources available to those with blindness or low vision, contact the Pinellas Talking Book Library (TBL). A program of the Pinellas Public Library Cooperative, the Talking Book Library provides braille and audio reading materials to Pinellas and Sarasota residents of all ages who cannot read standard size print due to blindness, low vision, physical impairments, or reading disabilities.

These services are provided free of charge through the mail. You can contact the Talking Book Library at 727-441-9958 or talkingbooks@pplc.us for more information.
